Student Remarks

It can be made more beginner friendly by addressing limited doubts and keeping the pace of the course even. \n

The labs should be on Mandyas, so that we get some time to practice what we have learnt.\nRest all good.

Best professor without a doubt.

More doubt slots for noobs.

Rupesh sir is by far the best teacher i have had.

Everything regarding the course material and its order is fine and our professor rupesh sir ???? I came here with 0 knowledge in programming but the way he taught made me improve and created interest in the subject the way he teaches and the examples ge gives for better understanding standing are outstanding but only drawback in the course is that there are many students who have prior knowledge in the subject they will be asking random doubts and hifi stuff making other student feel insecure

Rupesh sir is just wonderful.nothing more to say about the professor.But about the course sometimes i felt bad due to lack of time sir has to increase his teaching speed which sometimes made me out of sink with the class its better to allot another class for CS per week (present 3 my suggestion 4),so that sie will be able to cover everything that he want to cover.
No need to say sir has extraordinary level of knowledge and a person down to ground.Sir is open to all questions.I also thank IITM for allocating CS1111. \nI use this platform for apologising sir for inconvenience created to him and I couldnt stand to his expectations??.
Listening to CS class in the early mornings is a bit problem.
The course went slow in the beginning but during the last 3-4 weeks, we didnt get much time to prepare for the topics that were being taught in the classes because of the speed of teaching.
Highly knowledgeable and student friendly faculty.\nOne of the gem that IIT MADRAS has earned is Rupesh Nasre sir.
very good Hands down, the best instructor!!!
the course can be made a little more beginner friendly\n
I enjoyed the overall course but found difficulty at last because of the speed of course and hope so from next Sem labs aren't just 1 day after teaching the topic and should be given some time to absorb content.
could be much helpful but took help of many random sources to understand the concept \nit would be better if there are more number of classes per week as the speed of the class is really very high\nfelt like most of the things were not taught from the basics\nand most of the times class go according to the doubts even if they are unnecessary right now
I liked this course very much. Rupesh sirs mode of teaching was excellent and easily graspable.
Excellently presented course by Prof.Rupesh Nasre, he is extremely calm and answers all questions in class and outside. The labs provided a good value addition, some parts of the course were conducted too close to the lab, which made the lab difficult.
good
hope he would make us solve 2questions per week and submit them in Moodle or replit or through any other platform other than labs.
No, I was very upset with the course.\nOnly 3 classes +1lab cant clarify all the concepts regarding the subject.And the time table also not so good .
The labs were conducted on Thursdays, which included up to the portion taught on Wednesdays. This caused a lot of difficulty, and there was no time to get the concepts cleared and solve enough problems before labs. Instead what is taught till the previous week should be tested in labs.
